LTM Inaugurates its New Global Delivery & AI Competency Center in Kolkata Reinforces L&T Group's Long-Term Commitment to West Bengal

Kolkata, India – August 27, 2026: LTM, the Business Creativity partner to the world's largest enterprises, today inaugurated its new Global Delivery & AI Competency Center in Kolkata. The move reinforces L&T Group's long-term commitment to West Bengal as a strategic technology and innovation hub. The center was inaugurated by Shri Suwendu Adhikari, Honourable Chief Minister of West Bengal. The ceremony was also attended by Shri S. N. Subrahmanyam, Chairman & Managing Director, Larsen & Toubro and senior leadership of L&T and LTM, alongside other dignitaries.

The Global Delivery & AI Competency Center in Kolkata represents an important milestone in LTM's growth journey in India and reflects the company's continued investment in regional expansion, talent development and technology innovation. The facility will support LTM's growing global delivery capabilities and AI ambition while creating new opportunities for skilled professionals across West Bengal and the neighbouring states.

Kolkata's strong educational ecosystem, skilled talent pool and growing digital infrastructure make it an important destination in LTM's India growth strategy. The center will serve as a hub for collaboration, innovation and delivery excellence, enabling the company to support clients globally while contributing to the state's economic development.

"West Bengal is emerging as a preferred destination for technology and AI-driven investments. LTM's decision to establish and expand its presence in Kolkata reinforces the state's strengths in talent, innovation and digital infrastructure. We welcome this investment and the opportunities it will create for our youth, technology ecosystem and economic growth," said Suwendu Adhikari, Honourable Chief Minister of West Bengal.

"The inauguration of LTM's Global Delivery & AI Competency Center in Kolkata reflects L&T Group's continued commitment to investing in India's growth story. By expanding into high-potential regions and creating opportunities for local communities, we are helping build a stronger foundation for innovation, technology-led progress and inclusive economic development. We are delighted to partner with the Government of West Bengal in this important milestone," said S. N. Subrahmanyam, Chairman & Managing Director, Larsen & Toubro.

"Kolkata's deep talent pool, strong academic heritage and growing digital ecosystem make it a strategic location for LTM. As AI reshapes industries, our Global Delivery & AI Competency Center in Kolkata will help us harness local talent, build future-ready skills and deliver next-generation solutions for global clients while contributing to West Bengal's technology-led growth," said Venu Lambu, CEO and Managing Director, LTM.

The new Global Delivery & AI Competency Center further strengthens LTM's nationwide delivery network and supports the company's strategy of bringing opportunities closer to talent. Through continued investments in regional centers, digital infrastructure and employee experience, LTM remains focused on building future-ready workplaces that empower people, drive innovation and create long-term value for clients and communities alike.
